

CNS THERAPY NEWS

We free chronic pain patients with neuromodulation and behavioral therapy without medication, implants, or cannabis.

We are excited to announced today that we have raised a seed round funding totaling CHF1,000,000 from private investors and CHF139,200 in Jura Cantonal funding.

The funds will be used to complete our patented medical device and the regulatory filing to the FDA under the 510K program. We continue to successfully treat patients at the University of Marburg Pain Clinic.

We are taking a unique approach that combines the biology and psychology that has proven to be very effective. We are focused on bringing the technology from the lab to the market. <http://www.cnsTherapy.com>

For more information, contact: Marc Mathys

Every disease has psychological and physiological components, address both and the synergy will be amazing.

Acute disease mostly heals over time but with chronic disease healing is being blocked. These blocks have to be addressed.